Na ovom skupu, koji je imao međunarodni karakter, učestvovalo je 570 učesnika iz BiH, Španije, Mađarske, Njemačke, Austrije, Hrvatske, Slovenije, Srbije, Turske, Velike Britanije i Nizozemske. Na Kongresu su prezentirana 84 rada, a u Zborniku su objavljena ukupno 142 rada.

U toku je izrada projektne dokumentacije za 130 km autoceste u koridoru Vc kroz BiH, te studije podobnosti za autoceste Banja Luka - Doboj (72 km), Tuzla - Orašje (60 km) i brzu cestu Lašva - Donji Vakuf (54 km). Građevinski radovi se izvode na sarajevskoj obilaznici, dionici autoceste u koridoru Vc Dobrinje-Kakanj i na autocesti Banja Luka-Gradiška, dionica Klačnice-Gradiška.

Održavanje Drugog BH kongresa je prilika da se u vremenu intenzivne izgradnje autocesta u BiH kroz naučne i stručne radove, analizira prisutna problematika u svim aspektima razvoja cestovnog transportnog sistema u Bosni i Hercegovini i njenom okruženju.

Zaštita okoliša, novi sistemi upravljanja cestovnom infrastrukturom, novi materijali u građenju i održavanju, inovacije u projektovanju, standardizacija i finansiranje su teme koje su interesantne za stručnjake raznih profila, investitore, javnu administraciju, privredu, kao i za širu javnost.

opšte INFORMACIJE general INFORMATION

Bosna i Hercegovina je država na balkanskom poluostrvu na jugoistoku Evrope sa površinom od 51,129 kvadratnih kilometara (19,741 kvadratnih milja). Prema procjenama, Bosna i Hercegovina u 2007. godini je imala oko 4 miliona stanovnika.

Veliki gradovi su: glavni grad Sarajevo, Banja Luka na sjeverozapadu BiH poznatom kao Bosanska Krajina, Bijeljina i Tuzla na sjeveroistoku, Zenica i Doboj u centralnom dijelu BiH i Mostar u Hercegovini.

Bosna i Hercegovina graniči sa Hrvatskom na sjeveru, zapadu i jugu, Srbijom na istoku i sa Crnom Gorom na jugu. Bosna i Hercegovina ima izlaz na jadransko more u dužini od 26 km sa centrom u Neumu.

Region Bosna je najveći geografski region moderne države sa umjerenom kontinentalnom klimom, naglašeno toplim ljetima i hladnim, snijegom punim zimama. Manji region Hercegovina je južni dio države sa mediteranskom klimom i topografijom.

Prvi značajni bosanski vladar, Ban Kulin (1180-1204), vladao je skoro tri dekade u miru i stabilnosti. Sklapajući ugovore sa Dubrovnikom i Venecijom, Ban Kulin je tokom svoje vladavine ojačao bosansku ekonomiju. Vladavina Kulin bana je u narodu zapamćena kao razdoblje blagostanja što je ušlo u poslovice «Za Kulina bana i dobrih dana». Iz njegovog vremena sačuvan je prvi pismeni dokaz postojanja narodnog bosanskog jezika. Radi se o Povelji Kulina Bana. Povelja Kulina Bana predstavlja jedan od najznačajnijih dokumenata Bosne i ujedno se može nazvati rodnim listom države Bosne.

Bosna i Hercegovina ima bogatu kulturu, uključujući pjesnike kao što su Antun Branko Šimić, Aleksa Šantić, Musa Ćazim Ćatić, Jovan Dučić i Mak Dizdar; pisce kao što su Ivo Andrić (koji je dobio nobelovu nagradu za književnost 1961), Meša Selimović, Branko Ćopić, Miljenko Jergović, Petar Kočić, Nedžad Ibrišimović i Abdulah Sidran.

U Sarajevu se nalazi veliki broj muzeja i drugih institucija. Sarajevski filmski festival, osnovan 1995. godine, je postao glavni filmski festival na Balkanu. Sarajevska zima i sarajevski jazz festival su poznati koliko i bašćaršijske noći, koje traju cijeli mjesec i prikazuju lokalnu kulturu, muziku i ples.

Bosnia and Herzegovina is a country on the Balkan peninsula of Southern Europe with an area of 51,129 square kilometers (19,741 sq mi). Its 2007 residential population is estimated at approximately 4 million.

The major cities are the capital Sarajevo, Banja Luka in the northwest region known as Bosanska Krajina, Bijeljina and Tuzla in the northeast, Zenica and Doboj in the central part of Bosnia and Mostar in the Herzegovina.

Bordered by Croatia to the north, west and south, Serbia to the east, and Montenegro to the south, Bosnia and Herzegovina is almost landlocked, except for 26 kilometres of the Adriatic Sea coastline, centered around the town of Neum.

The region of Bosnia is the largest geographic region of the modern state with moderate continental climate, marked by hot summers and cold, snowy winters. Smaller Herzegovina is the southern tip of the country, with Mediterranean climate and topography.

The first notable Bosnian monarch, Ban Kulin (1180-1204), presided over nearly three decades of peace and stability during which he strengthened the country's economy through treaties with Dubrovnik and Venice. Rule of Kulin Ban has been remembered as time of prosperity and what is come in saying «For Kulin Ban and good days». From his time, the first written testimony of bosnian language existence has been preserved. It's about Muniment of Kulin Ban. Muniment of Kulin Ban represent one of most important documents of Bosnia and it can be also named birth certificate of Bosnia.

Bosnia and Herzegovina has a rich culture, including poets such as Antun Branko Šimić, Aleksa Šantić, Musa Ćazim Ćatić Jovan Dučić and Mak Dizdar and writers such as Ivo Andrić (who won the Nobel Prize for Literature in 1961), Meša Selimović, Branko Ćopić, Miljenko Jergović, Petar Kočić, Nedžad Ibrišimović and Abdulah Sidran.

Sarajevo is rich in museums and other institutions. The Sarajevo Film Festival, established in 1995, has become the premier film festival in the Balkans. The Sarajevo Winter Festival, Sarajevo Jazz Festival are well-known, as are the Bašćaršija Nights, a month-long showcase of local culture, music, and dance.
