Location

Belgrade, the capital of Serbia, is the third largest city in South-eastern Europe with around 1.700.000 people living in it. Belgrade is a city that is changing and developing at an accelerated pace. A city that welcomes everybody and leaves nobody indifferent. All citizens of Belgrade love to talk about the spirit of the city. Open and ever ready for fun, many Belgraders will claim to be true hedonists - and many of them really are - knowing all there is to know about good food, wine and music. The citizens of Belgrade like all sorts of things: pleasant conversations and long walks, drinking their morning coffee as well as being in motion and therefore the Streets, walkways and cafes are always filled with people.

Belgrade has a reputation for its nightlife, and with good reason. There isn't a day of the week in Belgrade when you can't have a night out. This is true regardless your age, lifestyle and financial status! A lot of nightclubs, bars and floating river clubs along the riverbanks make Belgrade nightlife some of the most exuberant in Europe. Belgrade is one of the oldest towns in Europe. It has a 7000-year-old history and the oldest archaeological findings date back to 5th millennium AD.
