RETHINKING urban change

IFHP

Urban Planning and Design
SUMMER SCHOOL 2022

The 26th IFHP Urban Planning and Design Summer School invites students and young professionals from fields related to spatial and urban design to rethink urban change and find alternative futures in place-based practices and local activism.

The summer school takes place in two Finnish cities, Helsinki and Hämeenlinna. The core of the course is an intensive 10-day workshop in the case study city Hämeenlinna.

The call for applications is open until 15th of April!
